Daniel S. and Anna W. Burkholder Family

These brief fragments of our ancestors are gathered to promote interests, rather than be taken as altogether encyclopedic. Gottfried Keller states that the Burkholders were born, grew up, loved, worked, suffered and died, and this went on for at least a dozen generations without one of them being mentioned.

1455051

With the coming of the Reformation, which produced our Anabaptist forefathers, they were preyed upon by both Catholic and Protestant, so that many were worshipping God in secluded spots and driven into the backwoods. Our fathers necessarily lived unpretentious, quiet, yet godly examples for numerous progeny. Due to these persecutions and ravageous wars, genealogists find it difficult to trace this family much beyond the eighteenth century.

The ancient meaning of the word Burg is refuge or hiding place; Verbergen means to hide or Ver-borg-en means hidden. Thus the name suggests the holder of, or inhabiter in a hiding place. (Swiss Origin of the Burkholder Family of America by Albert N. Burkholder).

Here are the family names of Daniel S. Burkholder's ancestry as far back as we know at present:

- 1 Hans Burkholder, bishop (-1752) Switzerland & Palatinate
- 2 Christian Burkholder, preach. (-1755) Switzerland & Palatinate
- 3 Christian Burkholder, bishop (1746-1809) Switz., Pal. & Groffdale
- 4 Abraham Burkholder, deacon (1768-1840) Groffdale, Penna.
- 5 John E. Burkholder (1807-1862) Groffdale, Penna.
- 6 Daniel S. Burkholder, deacon (1833-1915) Martindale, Penna.

The first three generations' history is given in detailed discussion, written by Ira D. Landis and reprinted by permission out of the Mennonite Quarterly Review of July, 1944.

The most outstanding Burkholder was Bishop Hans, who died in 1752 after serving his church for forty-seven years. His early home was at Langnau where he reared his family, which included preacher Christian, the father of the subject of this sketch. About 1731 he fled with most of his family to Gerolsheim in the Palatinate. Numerous letters written by Bishop Hans in the trying years of the 1740's have been preserved, which constitute valuable historical documents. The most important of these are herewith quoted in English translation to indicate the character of the man and his times.

Gerolsheim, January 4, 1744.

Bartholomew von Levering, together with other fellow ministers of the Taufgesinden in Amsterdam:

Very dear and worthy friend and brother in Christ Jesus, we cannot well omit giving you word, Your Honors, about our sorrowful condition and of how we have been this past summer. So you must know that the French oppressed us with many and great burdens, compelling us to give supplies which we can scarcely furnish. To comfort us we are told that everything will be paid for, but we have not yet received a single stiver (Silver coin). And besides we have been burdened with so much compulsory service, that it is no longer possible to bear it. If one comes home at night, one must go away again in the morning. Besides this, the English have also come, and for four long weeks remained only two hours distant from us with a great army so that we again had to do compulsory service that could no longer be endured. After this the army broke camp and went to Weyer. Then we had the headquarters of the Austrians twice among us, so that Your Honors can well see how things have gone with us, and that we passed this summer in great cares and under unbearable burdens.

Now dear friend, these troubles have come to an end, but the great God has visited us with another punishment, a contagious disease, and death has come among the horned cattle so that many thousands of them have fallen and many of our brethren have not a single one left so that poverty is very great among the friends and many know not how to help themselves. Besides the lordly oppressions are very great and no remission is to be hoped for.

Now dearest Friend, we must make known to your Honors yet another gloomy situation. On the death of our most gracious Elector and Lord, we have, as at all times is proper, made application in a strong moving petition, to the present reigning illustrious Elector, regarding the confirmation of our Confession. So far we have received no answer and have also little hope that we shall receive a favorable one, for a command has gone forth from the high government of all bailiwicks regarding the burial of our dead that they shall no longer be buried in the churchyards which seems to us very hard and burdensome. I have myself spoken about it to several gentlemen of the Government who said to me that we must have patience and first see what protection we receive from our gracious Elector. I have been myself to five of the most eminent ministers and have also spoken with them. They gave good answers but as yet we know nothing about how the matters will end.

We beg, dearest friend, Your Honors will in this give us good counsel how the matter may best be brought to a conclusion, for we are so embarrassed in the matter. It almost looks as if they would drive us out of the land. The great God will have pity on us. So much for desired news of us and we hope for an agreeable answer from you, Your Honors.

Wherewith I close for the present and remain with friendly greeting and recommendation to the divine protection. Your Honors' affectionate friend and brother in Christ Jesus. In the name of the other fellow ministers of our Mennonite congregations I have written this. Adieu.

Hans Burkholder.

Gerolsheim, February 17, 1744.

Johannes Deknatel:

Dear and Worthy Friend and brother in Christ Jesus, may you be blessed. Dear and worthy friend and brother, Your Excellency's agreeable letter of the 23rd of January has been duly received, wherein we perceive with love that you also have received our letter of January, the which we are pleased to know. We have also seen by your Honor's letter that you are sorry for our afflicted condition, but at this time can give us no advice regarding our letters of protection. You should be informed that so far we have as yet received no answer to our letter and request, which surprises us, for we were given favorable information by word of mouth. Also we as yet know nothing, dear and worthy friend, of how it will go with us. We have to give so many promises to the eminent that we do not know well how to fulfill them, since we have suffered so much damage from the war and the death of our horned cattle, and besides, had to advance a large sum of money, so that we do not know how to help ourselves. The poverty is so great here in the land, and yet no understanding or sympathy is to be expected that we do not know what to do.

Dear friend and brother, it is the wish and intention of some of our friends to travel in Pennsylvania. We cannot very well advise them against it since we dwell so uncertainly ourselves and do not yet know how we shall be sustained. But we do not wish to trouble and burden your Excellency in the matter. We hope that they may be able to cross and so not trouble Your Excellency in the matter, but we should like very much your opinion and advice, if indeed you would advise us to go there. Dear and worthy friend, we have judged from your letter that you would like further information as to where there is poverty and need on account of the cattle. They might each one try to help himself as much as possible, so we advise that we do not wish to trouble you, aside from three or four families that cannot help themselves. If your Honor seem inclined to help them according to your pleasure and as you deem proper, it will be very kind and agreeable. So far for desired news.

Dear friend, I am growing old and feeble and travelling grows tiresome to me. When, however, we have anything to do for the Lord and Master, the other ministers always think I should take the lead. Because I am an old man and have a white head, they think my words are worth more than theirs, which I have also discovered myself, but my sight and hearing are failing fast.

Your Honor, you are however by me most cordially greeted and committed to God's care, with which we close for the present and remain with friendly greeting and recommendation to the protection of God.

Your affectionate brothers in Christ,
Hans Burkholder, Christian Stauffer, Jacob Hirschler.

Gerolsheim, March 6, 1744.

Johannes Deknatel:

Very worthy and in Christ beloved friend and brother. May your Excellency be blessed here in time and hereafter in the blessed eternity; a friendly and brotherly greeting in the Lord, Amen.

Worthy friend, the cause of this writing to you, your Honor, is this, that some of our friends are thinking about going to Pennsylvania, as I informed you in a former letter, and we have found from the newspapers and otherwise, that it is very unsafe on the ocean on account of the pirates and not very promising for the journey. We desire in the most cordial and friendly manner to beg your opinion and advice regarding the journey and whether you approve of it, and whether it is safe to start or not. If your Honor does not approve, the friends will stay here. They have sold their things and prepared themselves for the journey, but will not further trouble your Excellency than to know the safety of the sea. Please dearest friend, be not displeased that I write you, and write me at once, your Excellency, your advice and opinion that we may govern ourselves accordingly.

Concerning the letter of protection, we have yet no news. I have been myself a short time ago at Mannheim and have myself spoken to the president. He has given me very good news; all shall go well. So much for desired news. I await a speedy answer from your Excellency, with which I close at present and remain with cordial greeting and commending you to the divine protection. Your Honor's affectionate friend and Brother in Christ Jesus.

Hans Burkholder.

Gerolsheim, 1745.

Bartholemew von Levering and other Taufgesinden in Amsterdam:

(After the usual religious greeting he says:) I cannot refrain from writing to you as I wrote February 22, 1742. I do not know whether you received the same. (He then enumerates how he gave money received to the most needy of the Mennonite brethren in the congregation with names of the amounts received. He also states that he heard early in 1742 that some of the brethren of the Palatinate near Heilbrun were going to Pennsylvania. The pastor of the congregation, Hendrick Kendig, so informed him. He also reported that these folk had to depend upon their good friends in Pennsylvania for their passage money. Burkholder does not approve of this. Then he continues:)

I have word from the minister of the so-called Amish congregation of Friesland, that some of his people are determined to go to Pennsylvania too. I asked him if they had the money. He said they had and also had letters from Holland which told them to come and they would see that they landed safely. This seems strange to me because your friends in Holland encourage them and discourage us. These people (Amish) make no common cause with us; they do not associate with us when they are in trouble. They try to bring us into disrepute. They belong to the better classes. They consider themselves the best and finest people. They are very prominent. So far as I am concerned I will not ridicule anyone but they ridicule us.

Conditions are very hard among us here in the Palatinate. Our young men cannot be received as congregation men by the authorities here. To get a letter of protection we pay 50 florins ($25). This is double what others pay for safe conduct. We cannot endure this much longer. We have no civil protection. Besides this the oppression of the local magistrates is already too great, and the taxes provided by the Court too heavy. We cannot provide them, let alone the bounty for our young men to escape the army service.

I have tried to help others in my household; but I must give up housekeeping and seek protection for myself elsewhere. I must get rid of my burdens because my bodily powers are failing me as I am getting old and because my sight and hearing are failing me. I must be relieved of all burdens for I cannot hold out. Wishing you God's grace, etc., etc.

Hans Burkholder.

Gerolsheim, March 16, 1747.

Johannes Deknatel:

Much beloved and worthy friend and brother in Jesus Christ, together with the other fellow ministers of our congregation in Amsterdam. May your Honor be blessed now in time and hereafter in a blessed eternity, Amen.

Very dearest friend, I cannot in Christian love refrain from once more making known to you our hard condition regarding the marriage of our children and the burial of our dead. We are not permitted to bury them in certain places without great expense. But we do not wish to make too much of this as we desire to attend to our own burials when it can be done elsewhere; so make no more of this. But concerning the marriage of our children this is very trying to us that no one will accept any from a common or middle class family as they do not wish to increase the number of poor grave lots.

When, however, the parents have died or the housekeeping has been broken up (as I also have done myself) a boy can be brought into the house only with great labor and expense. For a certificate must be secured from the mayor, and other officers with which one enters on the office and duties of a father. And then the subordinate officer directs one to the superior official, who directs the person to the high electoral government, which sends him to the exchequer and the clergyman of the church, who must pass judgment upon it, and so all the time he has his hand in his pocket, and it is a quarter of a year before he can come to an end, and it costs much money as well as labor before it is finished. Now if your honor will give us good advice about this matter, we will be very glad. Among those who cannot help themselves the poverty is very great. If things cannot be changed, we fear a falling off in the congregation among our young people. God will however cause all this to work for good and graciously assist us.

As concerns myself, I grow from time to time more decrepit and infirm in my body with tremblings and weakness, and my calling and services become more and more a burden, and yet at Easter I administered to five congregations the Holy Communion, and had to travel three or four hours, which is very fatiguing to me. I hope with Paul soon to lay down this tabernacle and to obtain a better, which I greatly desire. If Your Honor is not fully opposed to me as hereinbefore seen, I hope Your Honor will pity me, and grant me graciously your Christian support and contribution, as you deem proper, and be to me a cordial friend in my old days. I hope the great God will again richly recompense you for all. Wherewith I close for the present and remain with friendly greeting and recommendation to God's protection. Your affectionate friend and brother in Christ Jesus,

Hans Burkholder.

Beloved and worthy friend, I have just learned with astonishment, that some of our friends from the upper Palatinate wish in these dangerous times to set out on a journey to Pennsylvania. If your Honor would only give us advice as to what is to be done under the circumstances about this journey, we would thank you. I await an early answer. Adieu.

Hans Burkholder.

In such a furnace of iron (Deut. 4:20) Christian Burkholder, the subject of this sketch first opened his eyes on June 1, 1746, in the home of a farmer near Gerolsheim in the Palatinate, Southwest Germany. Father Christian, like grandfather Hans, was also a minister serving the congregation at that place. The War of the Austrian Succession then raging (1740-48), in which all of the central and western Europe was involved, affected these simple folk very decidedly as the preceding letters of grandfather Hans reveal. Even though they had a partial respite from war's ravages until the Seven Years' War (1756-1763), yet so severe were the physical and spiritual hardships that many turned their eyes westward across the Atlantic in their search for a Canaan.

These hardships are pictured in the letters of Christian Burkholder, senior, which have been preserved:—

Gerolsheim, April 4, 1752.

Johannes Deknatel:

(After a religious introduction:) I want news of Nova Scotia in England, etc., for this year many of our families want to take the journey to America for they are promised much freedom there. I want your advice whether our members shall go or not. Concerning the journey to Pennsylvania, this year, there are many of those who would like to go but lack the opportunity. They want to go and I feel that we must allow and assist them to go. I hope Your Honors will not object nor make difficult the journey. Unless they are supported by a certificate from me, under my hand, I do not advise you to encourage them. That is as much assistance as I can expect of you. Do not be displeased with my frequent entreaty. I send my cordial thanks for your condescension toward our people and hope the Lord will reward you.

If your Lordship will allow a little aid, there are six children in our congregation of whom three are under age, very young. Three can earn their bread. They all need money for support. There is nothing left of their parents' property by the time the debts and expenses, which their oppressors have put upon them, are paid. We leave it to you; but any money Your Honors give for these purposes will be well spent.

Christian Burkholder.

Gerolsheim, November 20, 1753.

Johannes Deknatel:

(After sending Christian greetings and expressing surprise that former letters were not answered he thanks all friends for helping the projected colony in Nova Scotia. He also thanks them for the kindness shown his father (Hans, who died in 1752) during his life. The great need drives him to ask for further favors. Their people do not even have bread.) I am greatly troubled to feel that you think the money is for myself. We need what we ask for to help others. (He hopes that those in power will) take "our part" when we are assailed, or when they speak evil of us. Our congregation has been proceeded against again; another decree has been made against us; the Lord will turn it to great good.

Christian Burkholder.

God had heard their cry and knew the longings of their hearts, but Christian, senior, must die, March, 1755, before the Burkholder family can embark on the journey to Pennsylvania. The widow with her family of six, Mary, Anna, Veronica, Christian, age nine, Peter, age seven, and Ulrich, age five, braved the pirates and the briny deep. After a long journey they arrived safely in America, proceeding immediately to the land of Hans Groff in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, some sixty miles west of Philadelphia.

When they arrived in Earl Township, Lancaster County, things were not so promising. The years 1753 to 1755 were extremely trying years of severe drought. The earth was parched and all forms of vegetation perished. Famine seemed impending. Then the Seven Years' War (in Europe) or the French and Indian War (in America) broke out in 1756. The Indians allied themselves with the French and scalped Pennsylvanians on many sides. By the Treaty of Paris in 1763 the French lost their American colonies, all of Canada, Nova Scotia, and India; and England also obtained Florida from Spain. Prussia under Frederick the Great and England under George, III were now the great powers of Europe. In Earl Township the non-Mennonites carried rifles into their grain fields even after peace was declared. That summer they also had the severest hailstorm of local history.

Then came the trying years of the Revolutionary War period. Prior thereto Christian Burkholder, junior, had married Anna, daughter of Daniel and granddaughter of Hans Groff, the noted pioneer of Groffdale. They started farming in 1766 on the father-in-law's farm of 151 acres and 156 perches, which they purchased in 1770, and sold in 1790 to Jabez Schuh of Manheim Township. In 1784 he obtained 87 acres from Peter Miller which he sold to Christian Hurst in 1789. In 1789 Christian also bought two tracts from George Reine on the banks of the Conestoga, west of Fiandt's Mill, one of 61¼ acres and one of 170 acres at $40 per acre. In 1787 and 1788 he bought two seventy-acre tracts along the Conestoga from Alexander and William McCleary. He retired on the place near Fiandt's Mill which he reserved when he sold 154 acres to his son, Christian, in 1800. Thus he experienced in trying times, the truth that, "the meek shall inherit the earth."

Like most of the pioneers Christian Burkholder industriously applied himself to agriculture. Wheat, rye, oats, and barley were the principal crops; some flax and hemp were grown. All clothing was homespun. The women in addition to providing for the household without the help of modern conveniences usually took their place in the arduous tasks of the field beside their husbands and brothers. Horses were scarce and oxen generally were used in the field. If the Indians had burned tracks through the forest, primitive ox-carts could take the grain to the gristmills; if not, it was carried on horseback. Harvest hands earned 33 cents per day and wheat was 65 cents per bushel. The chief meat was deer and wild turkeys from the forests. A 20-pound turkey could be bought for 12½ cents and a fat deer for 25 cents. Boots and spectacles were a curiosity when Christian was young. No calfskin shoes were known. The floors in the story-and-a-half houses were carpetless. The walls were generally plastered but unpapered and unpainted. The platters were of wood and the dishes of pewter. Life was simple and money scarce. By 1760 the Conestoga wagon began to come into use slowly. The Philadelphia Pike was built in 1792 and the stage coach began its trips from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh in 1804. In 1793 one of every nine Pennsylvanians died of yellow fever, and the disease returned in 1797.

Christian Burkholder's family of eight included Anna and Elizabeth (both of whom died without issue); Christiana, wife of Samuel Reiff, descendant of Deacon Abram Reiff of Salford; Barbara, wife of Dr. Christian Weaver; Marie, wife of John Weaver; Christian, Jr., (1775-1862), married to Anna Bear (1778-1839), the ancestor of the Kissel Hill Burkholders; Daniel of Warwick, who died without issue; Abraham (1768-1840) married to Catherine Eby (1771-1886), sister of Bishop Peter Eby, who lived on one of his father's farms. He was ordained minister at Groffdale, but by consent of the congregation he served only as deacon.

Christian's brother Peter (1747-1799), who was married to Margaret Huber of New Holland, farmed in Earl Township nearby until the early 1790's, when they moved to Dale Enterprise, Virginia. On a trip to his homeland he died and is buried near his famous brother in the beautiful Groffdale Cemetery. He was the father of the noted Bishop, Peter Burkholder of Virginia, grandfather of Bishop Martin, and ancestor of Bishop John of Mahoning County, Ohio, and Bishop David of Nappanee, Indiana.

Christian's brother Ulrich (1750-1804) was ordained by Christian as the first minister of the Bowmansville-Allegheny District in 1785. He was an ancestor of Henry Burkholder of Farmersville, as well as a number of Burkholders in Ontario.

In 1770 Christian was ordained minister by Bishop Bentz Hershey for the scattered "Menonists" of Earl Township. A church schoolhouse was built as early as 1755 by Hans Groff, and Henry Landis, his son-in-law, gave a tract in trust forever to the community on January 17, 1775, the first part of the present cemetery at Groffdale (Brick). Hans Rudolph Nagele, the first minister here, was interested in an "awakening" among the Mennonites as early as 1724. However he came under the influence of the Ephrata Cloister group, and left the Mennonite Church early in the next decade, living and dying at Ephrata as Brother Jehoiada. Hans Peter Somme was the minister in Earl Township from the middle seventeenth-thirties on. The next known minister and the first to be ordained here was Christian Burkholder.

In 1780 he was ordained bishop for the Earls and Brecknock townships, possibly by Bishop Valentine Metzler. Weaverland's first meetinghouse was built in 1766, and Bowmansville's in 1794. These were the three established centers of that day, although Bowman's Mills in Berks County was also a strong center. Here Christian's greatest labors were expended, although the scope of his influence extended into the Hammer Creek district and over Lancaster County in general.

As a minister in 1777 Christian Burkholder signed the paper that excommunicated Martin Boehm as a Mennonite bishop. The preliminary phase of the United Brethren Church began in Isaac Long's barn near Landis Valley in 1767, moved into its second phase in 1777, and served as a leaven in the entire county until its formal organization in 1800. Their cry was that the Mennonite Church is "cold, dead and formal", and they were the cause of not a little concern to the bishops. Then in 1785 the Conoy schism of the Jacob Engle group crystallized into the formation of the Brethren in Christ Church, or River Brethren. In 1790 from Frysville in Christian Burkholder's district Jacob Albright began to form the Evangelical Church. These movements in "this German ferment" were no doubt the main cause for the writing of "Addresses to the Youth on True Repentance and Saving Faith in Christ Jesus, Pure Love to God and our Neighbor, obedience to the Word of God and a full surrender of the soul into his hands", which was composed by Bishop Burkholder in 1792. This has been used extensively both in the German and English editions throughout the American Mennonite and Amish Churches. It still is in use as the "Fourth Part" of Conversation of Saving Faith for the Young in Questions and Answers, a new edition of which was published in 1941, by the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale, Pa.

The manuscript of this booklet was signed by the twenty-seven members of the Lancaster Mennonite Conference in 1792, who probably were:—Bishops, Benjamin Hershey, II, of Lancaster, Christian Burkholder, Jacob Brubaker of Rohrerstown, and John Herr of Strasburg; Preachers, Henry Metzler of Strasburg, Jacob Hartman of Mellinger's, Christian Hess of Salisbury Township, Joseph Horst of Paradise, Henry Martin of Weaverland, Ulrich Burkholder of Bowmansville, Daniel Gehman of Gehman's, Peter Leaman of Warwick Township, John Bear and Jacob Myer of Hammer Creek, Abraham Brubaker of Indiantown, Samuel Nissley of Rapho, Jacob Hershey of Kraybill, Peter Risser of Risser's and John Graybill of Juniata County; Deacons, Martin Mellinger of Mellinger's, Henry Weber of Allegheny, Hans Oberholtzer of Gehman's, John Nissley of Kraybill's, Christian Eby of Hammer Creek, and undoubtedly one from Lebanon County.

A few excerpts from this excellent work will answer the charges of the critics of the period, and will also show the conditions of the times and the solid foundation upon which the Mennonite Church was ever built. All quotations and page references are from the 1941 edition.

Asked at Baptism

I. Do you believe in the Almighty God who created heaven and earth, and all other things visible and who preserves the same by his power; and in Jesus Christ, his only begotten Son, that He is the true Messiah, Redeemer, and Saviour, who died for us on the Cross; and in the Holy Spirit who proceeds from the Father, who leads us into all truth, and puts us in mind of all that the Son hath said?

II. As Christ says that no man can serve two masters, are you willing to renounce Satan, the world, your own will and all other dark and Satanical works?

III. Will you pledge yourself to be obedient to the doctrines of Christ as Moses says in Acts 3:22 Thus we are bound to be obedient to the doctrines of Christ and his apostles even unto blood; also to administer the order in Matt. 18:15, 16 among the members of the Church in humility and love. Upon unreserved compliance you will be received. (Page 240).

On Baptism

The only commandment on baptism given by Christ is recorded in Matt. 28:19 and is briefly as follows: "Baptising them in the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost", to which there is no commandment added that people should go into the water to be baptized. And "where no law is there is no transgression" (Rom. 4:15). Nor is it allowed to add anything to, or take anything from the commandments of God (Deut. 4:2; Prov. 30:6; Rev. 22:18, 19). (Page 241).

On Human Nature

As almost everyone thinks the chief fault is in someone else, and not in himself; poor man overlooks himself, without thinking of his own reprov'd and deceived heart. In such a state man possesses great liberty for himself, in consequence of which the young fall into licentiousness and sensuality. And with all this, although he is nothing, poor man may think himself to be something and thus deceive himself. Indeed there are many who consider the present state of Christendom as a Babel, who take great pains to destroy it, but who, on the contrary, only exert themselves to build up the ruined city of Jericho, which they call Zion. (Page 177).

Nature is inclined to love natural and earthly things. Man has also a strong love for himself and his own righteousness. (Page 195).

On Repentance

Repentance is the first (Matt. 4:17) and the last commandment (Luke 24:46, 47) to his disciples. (Page 179).

All men without contradiction need repentance, as they have all sinned, are children of wrath, and are by nature carnally and earthly minded. Yea, in this state our hearts are a desert, overgrown with thistles and thorns, and into this desert comes the voice of the preacher: "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight" (Luke 3:4). (Page 179).

The apostles always wrote of true repentance, of saving faith, of true obedience to the commandments of the Son of God in baptism and the Lord's Supper, according to the ordinances of the Church, in order that their disciples might obey "from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered unto them". (Page 175).

Yea, to one who is penitent . . . every thing sinful (becomes) a great sin. (Page 180).

Thus speaks and feels a person who has come to a knowledge of his sins. His heart is tender as melted wax. He is penitent. He is heartily sorry that so much evil cleaves unto him, for when he wants to do good, evil is present with him. (Page 180).

Here it may be remarked that a person who is meek and lowly in heart cannot bring forth fruit that is externally the appearance of pride, whether it be in actions, words, or the putting on of apparel (I Pet. 3:3). But when further the heart is filled with the meekness of Christ, it bespeaks a good tree (Matt. 12:33), while on the other hand evil fruit grows out of the evil seed which the enemy has sown in the human heart by means of the senses and thought, whereby much evil fruit has been brought forth, particularly in reference to the lust of incontinence, with which poor man is as it were intoxicated. (Page 181).

What does it help us if we embrace and adhere to such confession of faith, and yet lead a heathenish course of life, in all kinds of sin and wickedness? (James 2:14). (Page 188).

We may see that true faith and a full surrender of the soul into the hands of God, is a matter of very great importance (Mark 1:16; Rom. 1:16, 17; Matt. 8:13; 9:22). (Page 189).

True repentance (brings us) . . . to a pious and virtuous course of life so we do no more that which we were wont to do in our former sinful life. (Page 183).

The New Life

A person who has received a new heart also speaks with a new tongue.

Now my dear young hearts, if the Word of God binds us so closely to love Him as our Creator with all our hearts, and with all our strength there remains nothing of our hearts wherewith to love the vanities and pleasures of this world (I John 2:15, 16). (Page 194).

Let every one well distinguish whether he is actuated by the love of God, or by the impure love and lusts of nature. For love and desire have a great influence on the mind either for good or for evil; so much so that they make all pains and labor comparatively light and easy (Col. 3:14, 15). (Page 194).

Watchfulness

We are ridiculed by the world. Of others we see bad examples. Again the enemy tempts us with self-exaltation, trying to persuade us that we have had much experience, much more than we really have had, that we are far in advance in the divine life, etc. In short he tempts us in every way. (Page 182).

If you talk much of your experience and your life shows the contrary, you will become a laughingstock before the world, and a hypocrite before God. (Page 214).

Now if you have ever bent your knees before God and united with the Church, and made a vow unto the Lord; then give all diligence to be faithful unto Him. Watch and pray daily and hourly, and resist the enemy in the faith. (Page 248).

Marriage

Why the rule that one is only allowed to marry among members of one's own church? There were twelve tribes in Israel. Now which of these tribes was most acceptable to the Lord, I know not, though one may have been more so than the other. Yet the Lord did not permit one tribe to intermarry with another as is seen in Num. 36:6-8. Now in the first world the inhabitants followed their own will in this matter, contrary to the Spirit of God (Gen. 6:2). Christ says it will again be in the latter days as it was in the days of Noah. But it was particularly because carnal-minded youth is encouraged by such as are of reputation, or in authority, that it was displeasing to the Lord that one tribe should intermarry with another. But a still greater displeasure did the Lord bear to the children of Israel intermarrying with heathen nations. This he absolutely forbade them. (Deut. 7:3; Ex. 34:15). Now, I say, consider well what the Lord says in these quotations. (Page 238).

Non-Resistance

Reader, perhaps you have lived for some time in a state of uncharitableness with your neighbor, and it would not cost you your life, as it did your Saviour, to make peace with him. It would only cost a little of your pride and selfrighteousness, and can you not give up these? (Page 200).

And should it cost you something of your temporal property to plant and maintain peace, God is rich enough to restore to you all that you may thus lose or sacrifice. And should he not do this temporally, he will richly reward you spiritually, to the welfare of your immortal soul. (Page 200).

The kingdom of Satan is an unpeaceable kingdom, it being ever engaged in quarrels and wars. The kingdom of Christ on the contrary is a peaceable kingdom. It consists of nothing but love, peace, and unity. (Page 198).

Peace

Where there is neither love nor peace, there is neither happiness nor prosperity. (Page 20).

Cherish no envy nor hatred about religion towards any person, for in consequence of such envy and hatred much innocent blood has been shed. (Page 205).

Divisions

Divisions grow out of man's pride and self-will and these again have a tendency to produce their like in others, viz., pride and self-will. (Page 212).

Sin

If a man is so blinded by sin that he does not see sin anymore, he is much poorer and more miserable than the man who is deprived of his natural sight. (Page 199).

Wage war against all evil desires. Preserve your feet from all evil steps. For if you give any one occasion to sin, it is already a proof that you do not walk in love (I John 5:17). (Page 203).

For that to which we accustom ourselves in youth is not easily left off in old age. (Page 203).

The Word of God

If we do not enjoy its precious contents it follows that we are yet in a state of spiritual disease, if not dead, dead in sin. (Page 187).

All worldly and spiritual matters that come within your calling, "prove" by the Word of God, and let this word be your guide through your whole lifetime, for it gives good counsel in all matters. So let the Bible and the New Testament be your chief reading book. (Page 204).

The Times

As there have been, and still are, many opposers, we also equally share the cross, ignominy and contempt. (Page 175).

I feel myself burdened in my mind with the various thoughts in respect of the many opinions of our times. Each one thinks his own are the best, they being as he thinks founded on the truth, thus each one in his own opinion founds his views on the truth, and yet these views are in some respects directly opposed to one another At the present time things appear to be in a very bad state, much confused and greatly in a state of decline. (Page 218).

The pomp and show with which men decorate their bodies arise out of an impure and proud heart, and are an abomination in the sight of God as well as idolatry. (Page 234).

The Christians of the present day go to war with one another by the thousands, kill and destroy one another in the most horrible manner, and this even such as are of the same religious faith, who boast of holding the true doctrine, and who are united by the sacrament into the same body. But it is not to be believed that the true body of Christ will injure itself. Further there are many among all religious denominations who show by their fruits that they are not true branches of the Vine, Christ, inasmuch as one brother defrauds and belies another, and does violence and injustice to him. (Page 208).

What a great difference between the doctrine and deportment of Christ . . . and that of the professed followers of Christ at the present day. (Page 207).

Sincerity

Let this be a rule to you from your youth to your old age, that in all your actions you are sincere, without falsehood and deceit. (Page 202).

These few excerpts not only depict the man, but the times, and portray the Mennonite Church in a period when different religious groups were preying upon it. These prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that the Church was not "cold, formal and dead", but, though never emotional and always conservative, ever tried to produce a people who here followed the lowly Prince of Peace and should not be disappointed at the judgment.

Bishop Burkholder's wife Anna died in 1795 and was buried at Groffdale. His daughters Anna (died 1833) and Elizabeth (died 1823), spinsters, kept house for him at a small home east of but adjoining the bridge at Fiandt's Mill (razed some eighty years ago). Here he worshipped God and served the Mennonite Church first at home, but also in the many sections, north, south, and west, where these noble folk pioneered in other sections. A large block of the membership in the Hammer Creek district and in the Bowmansville district moved after the turn of the century into the Ontario Province of King George, III, practically wiping out the Allegheny group. This was largely due to their sympathies with England in the Revolution and to their fears regarding the nation still in its infancy. Some of these went by way of Franklin County.

On May 13, 1809, at the age of 63, Bishop Burkholder laid his armor by, for a much needed early reward. Jacob Brubaker and Peter Eby were the able bishops who were now ready to continue the leadership in the Lancaster Conference for the next decades, after Christian Burkholder had so remarkably brought it through the closing rough years of his life.

A gray slab stone in the beautiful Groffdale Cemetery, three miles south of his home, marks the bishop's grave alongside of his wife and in line with his two daughters. His will, probated May 20, 1809, reads:—"I commend my soul into the hands of the Almighty God that gave it and my body I commend to the earth to be buried in a decent Christian manner, and as touching my worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me in this life . . ." He bequeathed ten pounds to the Congregation for the use of the poor. His woodland home was assigned to his two youngest daughters who kept house for him.

Thus passed a great man of God, a pioneer of a godly line of leaders in the Mennonite Church, who had learned the values of a godly life from his parents who in fortitude under pressure had indelibly imprinted them on their children. Loyal and true to the faith of the forefathers, they enjoyed the blessings of the same in communities where the Cloud abode. Trying indeed were the times, but great the reward; and their inestimable works are still following them. May we ever remember these great pioneers and their noble deeds, not to worship them, but to appreciate more highly their faith and never turn therefrom.

Abraham Burkholder, the youngest of Christian's children, was born Nov. 27, 1768 and went to his reward on June 15, 1840 with an age of 71 years, 1 month and 18 days. He married Bishop Peter Eby's sister, Catherine Eby, born October 30, 1771 and died March 4, 1856, with the advanced age of 84 years, 4 months and 4 days. Their ten children are the following:

Name	Birth	Death	Age

Samuel	May 26, 1815	Mar. 25, 1858	42y 2m 29d

They were farmers of the homestead in West Earl Township.

He was early ordained as a minister at Groffdale but at his request, and by the consent of the congregation, he was later appointed as deacon, which office he faithfully filled until his death. (M. G. Weaver). He is buried at the beautiful Groffdale Cemetery, being marked A. Burkholder on a little sandstone marker resting between his wife and father, Christian.

The seventh child of Abraham, namely John, married Esther Sauder, daughter of Caspar and Catherina Sauder, born Oct. 26, 1807 and died in 1850 with the age of 43. They were Mennonites and farmers living in Earl Township, Lancaster County, Penna. Their children are the following seven:

Name	Birth	Death	Age
Abraham	Oct. 15, 1832	Mar. 17, 1833	5m 2d
Catharine	Oct. 15, 1832	Mar. 22, 1833	5m 7d

Esther	Feb. 19, 1843	Apr. 30, 1927	84y 2m 11d

Second he married Feronica Wenger, born Sept. 7, 1818 and died Oct. 4, 1903 with the advanced age of 85. She is buried at the Groffdale Cemetery (new) while John and Esther lay buried on the old cemetery (brick building).

Their two children are the following:

Name	Birth	Death	Age
Abraham	Oct. 18, 1852	May, 1936	85y
Elizabeth	Nov. 26, 1854	Mar. 30, 1913	58y 4m 4d

Daniel S. Burkholder, the third child of John, married on Dec. 1, 1857 to Anna Weaver, daughter of Isaac and Catherine Weaver (Weber) Weaver. They were lifetime farmers living in Earl Township, Lancaster County, Penna.

Aug. 25, 1864 he was ordained as an assistant deacon to Deacon Henry Martin, to serve the united congregations until 1893, thereafter which he served the Weaverland Conference. (M. G. Weaver) He served his official capacity for 51 years until the time of his death on Aug. 3, 1915. He was buried in the Zimmerman Cemetery, Martindale, Penna.

He was a man of more than ordinary ability; this testimony came from people of his own household and the church he served. He could write German and English script equally well, which was a useful tool for his office as deacon, in holding the growing church near to God.

He has at least 1,700 direct descendants at date of press.

Their children are the following twelve:

Name	Birth	Death	Age
